Art Radar caught up with NON Berlin Director Ido Shin and NON Berlin Project Director Nayeon Kim about the “Asian Art Show 2016”. Read the Art Radar interview What projects can we look out for in the future from NON Berlin?

“Asian Art Show” will end on 20 June 2016, the last day of the 14-week relay exhibition. On 24 June we start a new exhibition with rising artist Hyelim Cha from Korea until 15 July. In early August, we host a collaborative event with a Paris-based young Chinese artist group. After a short summer break we come back in September with an exhibition entitled “Translateral Landscapes” with artists Hong Soun and Anne Quirynen. Our last project for this year will take place in November with one of our partner spaces Meinblau projektraum. Every November we realise a project with an ongoing theme: borders. This November we continue with a project entitled “Global Gaps”. Projects for 2017 are still being discussed and NON Berlin is open to project proposals.
