perspectives on art, design, culture

PERCH is an interesting online platform offering Indian Perspectives—Exchanges—Research—Conversations—History on art, design and culture.

An initiative by Mumbai-based studio Kahani Designworks, the team of collaborators, writers and observers is committed to building meaningful discourse about the place of art and design in everyday life. PERCH is a resource to document the serious and sometimes not so serious debates about how creative thinking could be and should be used in present day India.

Enjoy the PERCH review of the Book Building opened by Tara Books in Chennai in 2012, review of the Global Design Forum 2012 in London and the launch of stamps in India to celebrate 50 years of Design Education.
