Incorporated on the first day of 2005 as a non profit organization, the Asian Film Archive is based in Singapore.

Internationally renowned film archives not only house the gems of the cinematic world, they are also vibrant hubs of activity. Supporting the local film community will be an emphasis at the Asian Film Archive. In line with its mission, the Asian Film Archive will Preserve film prints, digital masters and related materials in a permanent collection focusing on the acclaimed works of living independent Asian film makers.

Promote appreciation and build cultural value of Asian films through research, education and publication.

Provide access to comprehensive Asian film resources in order to provide sources of inspiration for creative processes, teaching, and research (be it academic, commercial and/or private).

Nurture a film community with a passion for Asian cinema and encourage new audiences to fall in love with Asian films through a carefully curated programme of screenings and discussions all year round.

Facilitate the marketing and distribution of Asian films, merchandise and collectibles especially for independent film makers.
