culture360.ASEF.org is delighted to be the media partner of UnBox Festival. Founded by Quicksand, UnBox Festival and UnBox Cultural Futures Society are platforms exploring new narratives and building action at the intersection of disciplines, to reimagine India's plural futures.

Deep dive into stories of people, places, objects and ideas into a sensorial experience with friends and collaborators yet to be met. We will be walking the tightrope between digital and analog with as much ease as swinging between a familiar past and an unknown future.

The upcoming edition of the UnBox festival features diverse tracks for participants to explore intersections across design, art, culture, and technology. With a spirit that seeks to infuse our shared futures with renewed imaginations, UnBox makes space for serendipitous discovery, connections and learning that happens when diverse topics and people come together.

The present serves as a window between traces of the past and etches of the future. Bringing together old friends, fresh faces, and a new city, UnBox Festival will deconstruct the past, deliberate on the present and assemble ideal futures, while fostering a community brought together through creativity, imagination and responsibility.

The festival manifests across various formats and experiences – from conversations, workshops, labs, exhibitions, performances to excursions and meals, bringing unique personal narratives to the fore, tying together spaces, people and cultures, while we continue celebrating action at the intersections.

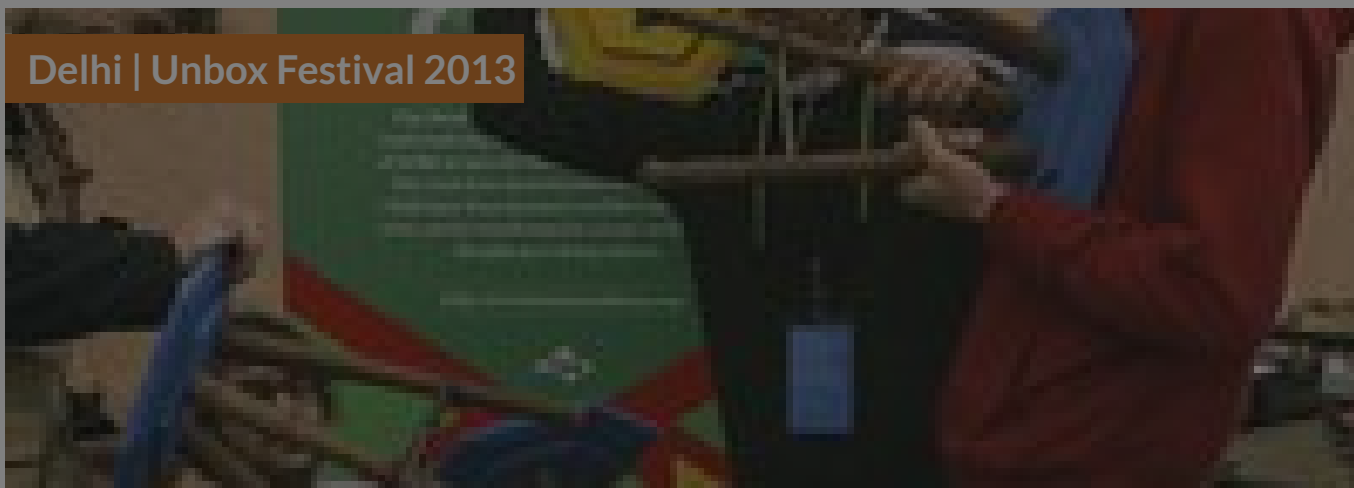

Join us for UnBox Festival from 15 to 17 February 2019 at the Bangalore International Centre!
