ANTI - Contemporary Art Festival | call for proposals on theme of FOOD

For its 2020 festival ANTI - Contemporary Art Festival in Finland is thrilled to announce partnership with Kuopio Region of Gastronomy, coordinated by ProAgria Eastern Finland and Savonia University. The 19th edition of ANTI – Contemporary Art Festival will take place between 8th and 13th September 2020 in Kuopio, Finland. We now invite artists, working in any field, to propose projects that directly engage with the theme of food.

This year, in addition to the general call-out there are five specific call-outs for commissioned projects. In addition is a call, made by our partner Reality Research Center, for applications to the Residency for Impossible Performance initiative.

When proposing a project to ANTI Festival please make sure your work responds to the festival's focus on public space (including interior and privately owned spaces). We do not show projects in traditional cultural spaces (galleries, theatres etc.) so your proposed project will need to have an integral relationship with the place in which it is presented and your proposal will need to outline where your work could be located.

Areas that your project may respond to may include one or more of the following (this list is by no means exhaustive):

Food and identity; personal/regional/national
Food and social inequality
Food and environment/ecology
Food and geopolitics
Food and land use
Rural and urban farming
Food and community
Food and belief/spirituality
Cooking; dexterity and creativity
Food and the everyday; feeding the family
Food and celebration
Food and gender
Food and wellbeing
Food and the body; disease, eating disorders, body-shape discourse
Local food/Finnish food/seasonal food
Fast food and delivery services; new economies

The 2020 edition of ANTI Festival celebrates Kuopio's winning nomination as the European Region of Gastronomy 2020.

Deadline: 19 December 2019
