Bengal Foundation

The Bengal Foundation was established on the belief that exposure to the arts and culture lend a certain enlightenment and erudition to people. As such, the Foundation aims to sculpt a sense of aesthetics within the people, as well as the appreciation of it; establish points of reference for the growth and proliferation of art and facilitate the creation of environments responsive to the arts.

It also works to conserve tradition; allow diversity, evolution and growth from within; and disseminate processes, techniques, information and knowledge about the arts to empower and instil confidence. Therefore, the core undertaking of the Foundation is to create awareness in and encourage the practice of, the arts in all its adaptations and uphold a positive image of Bangladesh by disseminating information about its cultural wealth.
