

RESOURCES > ifa international Press Review on 'Migration and Culture' - IETM publications

POSTED ON 19 DEC 2016

ifa international Press Review on 'Migration and Culture' - IETM publications

 dinhqle

The latest special international Press Review collection from ifa (Institut für Auslandsbeziehungen) in Germany is on the theme of 'Migration and Culture'. The collected articles and international press commentaries on the recent cultural challenges of migration come from a wide range of countries and perspectives.

Take a look at the Migration and Culture press review

It includes information on the:

- Casula Powerhouse Arts Centre (NSW, Australia) Arts and Refugees Forum and Refugees art exhibition
- Refugees as guides in Berlin museums
- Child refugees sharing stories at European Film Fest in Paris
- Shakespeare's Globe takes Hamlet to the Jungle refugee camp in Calais

Readers may also like to consult the 2016 IETM publication, in the Mappings series, on

Creation and Displacement: Developing new narratives around migration

This mapping aims to showcase some of the incredible artistic projects taking place in Europe and internationally with a focus on support, solidarity and engagement with refugees, asylum-seekers and those who are recently displaced. Everywhere across Europe and beyond, contemporary performing artists are showing their role as an immediate reaction task-force to help in humanitarian crises, and use their skills to help bring relief or even heal wounds and help newcomers integrate into society. This mapping can help you connect with other artists and organisations working on this urgent topic.

and a December 2016 IETM report on:

The role of culture in promoting inclusion in the context of migration

With large numbers of refugees fleeing conflict and violence and reaching all the way to Europe, there is an urgent need to develop strategies that allow them at once to be included in European societies, while at the same time retaining a sense of their own identity, and a pride in their cultural roots.

The role of cultural and educational agencies is crucial, offering safe spaces where refugees can inter-act with local host communities, learn the language and develop social/cultural skills, and acquire the confidence to articulate their cultural identity in the European context, as well as assisting with early recovery and transition.

This report highlights key areas where cultural interventions lead to tangible benefits, and emphasises the importance of a further tier of cultural projects that do not simply engage newcomers, refugees and migrants, but foster interaction and dialogue with wider European society.

Image: [top] Erasure (Still #1) (2011), by Dinh Q Lê Photograph: Dinh Q Lê (from the Casula Powerhouse Arts Centre 'Refugees' exhibition)

[bottom] The Sea Cemetery (Credit: Support to Life/Hayata Destek)

SIMILAR CONTENT

POSTED ON
03 AUG 2015

EUNIC Yearbook 2014/2015 | on migration into
Europe

Europe: Closed Doors or Open Arms?

BY VANINI BELARMINO
18 MAY 2016

The Face of the Invisible | Art and Displacement

FEATURES

CYPRUS GERMANY PHILIPPINES

BY JORDI BALTÀ PORTOLÉS
30 MAY 2016

NEMO Publication on Museums, Migration and

POSTED ON
14 NOV 2022

Inputs for a report on cultural rights and migration

NEWS
INTERNATIONAL

POSTED ON
23 MAY 2017

Promoting intercultural dialogue in migratory and refugee crisis | new EU report

PUBLICATIONS
EUROPE

DEADLINE
30 JUN 2010

International Playwright's Forum Competition 2010

OPEN CALLS

INTERNATIONAL

COUNTRIES

GERMANY INTERNATIONAL

THEME

CULTURAL POLICY

ABOUT ASEF CULTURE360

culture360.asef.org brings Asia and Europe closer by providing information, facilitating dialogue and stimulating reflection on the arts and culture of the two regions.

MORE ABOUT ASEF CULTURE360 | FAQ | f X @

This website was created and maintained with the financial support of the European Union. Its contents are the sole responsibility of the Asia-Europe Foundation (ASEF) and do not necessarily reflect the views of the European Union.

About us

Team

Partners

FAQ

Brand guidelines

How to partner with us

Contact us

#ASEFCulture

