Maurits Binger Film Institute

The Binger offers intensive training programmes on a regular basis for :

Screenwriters: Script Development Programme

Script Editors: Script Editing Programme

Directors: Director's Coaching Programme

Producers: Creative Producing Programme

The institute's philosophy is based on the convictions that script development is essential for the success of a film project, and that training is an integral part of one's professional career. Its intensive, long-running (four to five month) programmes provide the ideal combination to address the Binger's twin objectives: improving the skills of filmmakers and improving the quality of their projects.
